Someone asked Mother Teresa how he might better spread the Gospel. She replied simply, "Smile more often. Live as though you believe there are 542 references to joy in the Scriptures." In Joy we come to the scriptures this week. It is the Transfiguration of the Lord, His celebration of the Sacrament of Confirmation.

We come to Jesus at prayer on the Mountain. Only Luke begins the account with the Lord at prayer. This is significant. The Lord is opening Himself to the presence of the Father. At peace, at prayer, He is transformed, transfigured, into a state that reflects the glory of God. Moses and Elijah appear. They also are radiant, reflecting the glory of God. Moses, the representative of the Books of the Law, Elijah, representing the Books of the Prophets, come to speak to Jesus, the very Word of God. They are speaking of God's plan for his people, the conquest of the spiritual. Of course, the disciples, Peter, James and John, don't understand this. They are still looking for a physical kingdom. The spiritual is beyond them. The voice in the cloud is meant for them and us: "This is my Beloved Son, Listen to Him."

God wants to transform the world. He has established the Kingdom of the Spirit and called us as the new Chosen People. Following him does not mean just performing certain external actions, like coming to Church, or showing up to get married, having our children baptized, receive communion or be confirmed. Following God means entering a spiritual, mystical relationship with him, a relationship that is present through our daily duties as well as when we are together at prayer.

On the Second Sunday of Lent we consider the way we are following the Lord. Are we allowing the spiritual to become real in our lives? Are we allowing God's plan to take effect in our world? Are we living as citizens of heaven, or is our glory the mere external following of our religion?

If someone were to ask any of us, "What exactly is a Catholic?" in what terms would we form our answer? If we were to answer to question in terms of religious practices, such as "a Catholic is a person who goes to Church on Sundays, receives the sacraments, says the Rosary, etc," we would be given far too much importance to what we do and not enough importance to the Action of God. However, if we were to answer the question, "What is a Catholic?" in terms of what God does, if we were to say, "A Catholic is someone united to God in such a way that others experience the Mystery of God working in him, then it is God and his works that are the essence of lives. People are drawn to Catholicism because they want to experience God as Catholics experience him.
